

EDIWheel API EUDR

As of December 30, 2025, new requirements under the EU Deforestation Regulation (EUDR) will come into force. These require all companies involved in the supply chain for tyres, rubber and related products to provide extended documentation and complete traceability.

To ensure seamless data exchange, the EDIWheel working group (EDICeti) is currently developing an API solution that will enable the required EUDR information (DDS number, DDS verification number) to be provided in response to an API call using the existing EDIWheel standard.

The documentation will be published on www.ediwheel.net by 15 October 2025 at the latest.

Advantages of this Application Programming Interface API:

- One standard for the exchange of EUDR related information
- Real-time transmission
- Automation & efficiency
- Flexibility
- Scalability
- Security
- Seamless integration
